Walter Raymer is Killed in Action

Popular Local Young Man Meets Death in Gallant Service

The news that another of the best loved lads in Kelowna had fallen at the front was received by Mrs. George Raymer on Wednesday morning in a telegram which bore the sad intelligence that her son Walter had been killed in action on the 24th May.

Walter Raymer, it will be remembered, left here as drummer in the band of the locally raised battalion. Recently the band was broken up and the bandmen had to shoulder rifles and take their positions in the trenches. He had been barely two months in France when disaster overtook him, as he arrived there on the 3rd April. His twentieth birthday, the 12th May, was spent at the front. He was a keen sportsman, yet a young man of quiet habits, and a general favorite of all who knew him. It is no exaggeration to say that he was probably the finest hockey player in the Okanagan. His death has been mourned by many and his parents have received countless expressions of sympathy. Since the fatal news came the flags at the Municipal Offices and Fire Hall have been flying at half mast in honour of his memory. His death is a loss to Empire, home and city.

Any physically unfit will be retained on the staff, but the others will be notified that they are no longer required. The board has also ordered 5,000 men on its inspection throughout the Dominion to present themselves for examination. Over 1,000 are returning.

DENY PERSUASION

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The Japanese embassy today denied the knowledge of a reported representation by Japan to the Russian government to the effect that Japan and Great Britain would be obliged to consider what measures to take in case Russia should withdraw from the war.

STRIKE IN LUXEMBURG

GENEVA, June 7.—The Gazette de Lausanne says that a general strike has begun in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg owing to the high cost of living and the refusal of the proprietor of factories, mostly Germans, to increase the wages and as a result of the insecurity of the factories from attacks by the allied aircraft.

LIEUT. L. R. BULL DIES OF WOUNDS

Kelowna Loses an Enthusiastic Orchardist

The following paragraph appeared in a list of casualty notices in a recent copy of an English newspaper:

Lieutenant Lovelace Rowat Bull, Royal Scots Fusiliers (died on May 3 of wounds received in action), was the youngest son of Mr. Arthur Bull, of Sylhet, India. He was educated at Berkhamsted School, and in 1911 went out to Canada, where he engaged in fruit farming. On the outbreak of war he returned to England and joined the Public School Corps, from which he was appointed to a commission. At the time of his death he was attached to the — Company, Machine Gun Corps. He had previously been wounded in May, 1916.

Undoubtedly many people here will well remember the deceased who was a resident of the Kelowna district for the period mentioned in the above notice. After his arrival here he worked on various ranches for a year or so while looking out for a piece of land which would, in his opinion, make a perfect orchard. When the Belgo-Canadian Fruitlands were subdivided in 1912, Mr. Bull bought 20 acres on the Upper Hepburn Bench, and the condition of the five-year-old trees today show how well he was justified in the choice he made.

Mr. Bull was a very hard-working and keen orchard man. He took a deep interest in the orcharding industry as a whole, and in laying down his life in the great struggle the community has lost one who gave promise of being a most useful member.

Irrigation is Linked With Stock Farming

When These Gain a Footing Prosperity Is Sure to Follow

Among the organizations for benefitting agriculture in Canada few are playing a more important part than the Western Canada Irrigation Association. Owing to the fact that Canada has drawn its settlement mainly from humid countries, the part which irrigation plays in agriculture is, but vaguely understood by a large section of the population. The Western Canada Irrigation Association, by means of its printed reports and its annual conventions, held in various irrigation centres in the West, has done a great work toward bringing about a better understanding of the part that irrigation can play in the agricultural development of a country like Western Canada.

The development of irrigation communities proves how closely irrigation farming is linked up with the live stock and dairy industries. Speaking before the convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association last summer at Kamloops, W. T. MacDonald, of the Live Stock Branch of the B.C. Department of Agriculture, laid particular emphasis upon the relationship of irrigation to live stock raising. "A few years ago," he said, "when irrigated lands were being developed rapidly and many new areas were being brought under irrigation, live stock farming seemed to be left out entirely. Under irrigation, with our favorable climate and soil, we get very large yields, but these large

MANY VISITORS COMING FOR DAIRY CONVENTION

Hon. John Oliver Will Be Amongst the Speakers

The extra convention of the B. C. Dairymen's Association, which is to be held in the Kelowna district on June 22 and 23, is to be honored by a number of prominent people who will address the various assemblages and make a general tour of the district. These speakers include the Hon. John Oliver, the minister of agriculture; Dr. S. F. Tolmie, the B. C. representative of the Dominion Live Stock Branch; Prof. W. T. McDonald, Provincial Live Stock Commissioner; Prof. L. Stevenson, Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Sidney, V.I.; Prof. J. A. McLean, of the Animal Husbandry Department of the University of B. C.; Prof. P. A. Bovig, of the Field Husbandry Department of B. C.; Mr. A. C. Wells, of Sardis, the Hon. President of the B. C. Dairymen's Association; Mr. H. S. Shannon, of Cloverdale, the President; Mr. T. H. Moore, of Saanich, the Vice-President.

While the purport of the convention is of course dairying, there is not the slightest doubt but that many of the visitors will find more than ordinary interest in all matters of general agriculture, as well as in irrigation and the needs and resources of the farm and orchard districts which will be passed through in their tour of the neighbourhood.

TROUBLE IN NORWAY

LONDON, June 7.—Great demonstrations against the unsatisfactory food situation were held in Norway on Wednesday. The government, with a view to preventing rioting, had prohibited the sale of all alcoholic beverages for three days and as a result of this order the restaurants were closed. All the stores in Christiania are shut down, the gas works and electrical plants are idle, and nearly all the workmen are striking.

Dangerously Wounded

A telegram received on Monday morning by Mrs. H. Foster, contained the information that her husband, Pte. Harry Foster, had been dangerously wounded on May 31. No other information was given.

HAY CROP RUINED

WINNIPEG, Jan. 7.—The hay crop of Manitoba is ruined. So declares Hon. Valentine Winkler, the minister of agriculture, who says that no amount of rain will save it now.

OTTAWA, June 7.—The government has decided to put in force daylight saving throughout the Dominion.

BRITAIN'S WAR AIMS

LONDON, June 7.—Premier Lloyd George shortly will make a formal statement of Britain's interpretation of the phrase: "Restitution, Reparation and Guarantees," so that the world in general, and Russia in particular, may know exactly what the nations' war aims are.

COARSER BREAD FLOUR AND CHEAPER MEATS

Discuss Means of Reducing Price of Foodstuffs

OTTAWA, June 7.—During a further consideration by the senate of Senator Casgrain's resolution favouring the acting of looking into the use of a coarser flour for bread in Canada, Senator Gordon, who described himself as being a life-long protectionist and still a protectionist, advocated the removal of the duty on meats and lard. In war times, he said, steps had to be taken to meet the conditions which develop, and he thought that these articles should be placed on the free list. Senator Gordon said the country was suffering from the high prices of the principal articles of food, and that if maximum prices were fixed on flour, meats and vegetables it would be of great benefit. In Canada the price of butter made that article prohibitive to many.

Alberta Election is Creating Excitement

EDMONTON, June 7.—With monster rallies in the city by both Liberals and Conservatives, the election campaign came to a close last night. The fight of the last three weeks has been hard, both sides have left nothing undone to secure every advantage. Women's votes have brought a new element into the contest which makes the result uncertain, especially in Edmonton, where both sides admit there will be a close fight.

Laurier Will Not Support Coalition

Canada May Have Unionist and Nationalist Parties

MONTREAL, June 7.—Concerning the latest turn in political affairs, the correspondent at Ottawa of the Gazette, telegraphing tonight, said: "It is conceded by both parties, that Laurier has refused to enter or to support the coalition government. A Unionist party of Liberal-Conscriptionists and Conservatives is now advocated." That the old names of "Conservative" and "Liberal" may disappear and that the name of "Unionist" and "Nationalist" parties replace them is quite probable. Why Sir Wilfrid refused coalition is not yet known. "Both parties will meet in caucus this morning. The leaders are attempting to agree upon a joint statement of negotiations to present to parliament on Thursday afternoon, which will be followed by a statement of policy by both Borden and Laurier." "Sir Wilfrid's anti-conscriptionist supporters claim," the correspondent says, "that the only method of solving the present problem is to appeal to the country and that their leader will refuse a further extension of parliament."

Men From B. C. Now Hold Electric Station

CANADIAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, June 7.—The Lens central electrical station was finally incorporated in the Canadian lines this morning. It was occupied again by British Columbians last night. The occupation cost very few casualties other than those incurred in the skirmishes around it. On Tuesday night, further progress was made in cleaning out the trenches in the vicinity of the station. The enemy used bombs, gas shells in his efforts to stop this movement, but at midnight the British Columbians held fast every foot of territory gained during the night.

Denounce Conscription

MONTREAL, June 7.—The denunciation of conscription and of the government for not relieving the cost of living, coupled with a protest against the prolongation of parliament, were treated from various angles at a meeting tonight, under the auspices of the Federation Labor clubs. There were about 300 present.

Hospital Egg Day on Saturday June 16

On Saturday, June 16, the Poultry Association is holding a "Kelowna Poultry Association Hospital Egg Day." This means that all members of the Association, and other friends of the Hospital who approve of the suggestion, are asked to bring one dozen eggs to the secretary, Mr. Alf. Notley, on Saturday, June 16, at the Feed Warehouse on Ellis Street, or to leave the eggs at Mr. Dark's shoe store (nearly opposite the Post Office) at any time from the previous Wednesday, June 13. The eggs will all be taken together to the Hospital and will be an acceptable gift.

The Poultry Association has now arranged for a town delivery for one afternoon in each week. This will be a great advantage to those members who do not have rigs of their own and will no doubt result in an increased membership.

Mrs. A. P. McKenzie Died on Saturday

After an illness extending over several years, the death occurred last Saturday night, of Edith E. McKenzie, wife of Mr. A. P. McKenzie, of Richter Street. In addition to the widower, the deceased leaves four young children to mourn her loss.

Mrs. A. P. McKenzie, who, before her marriage, was Miss Edith E. Hawthorne, was born at Milton, Ont., in 1878, and was the youngest of 14 children. In the early eighties her parents moved to Manitoba, where the deceased lived until shortly before her marriage, which took place in Phoenix, B.C., in July, 1902. Before coming to Kelowna about three years ago Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie lived in Vernon.

The funeral, which was of a private nature, took place on Monday, at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Alex. Dunn officiating. The pall bearers were Messrs. J. Ball, A. J. Todd, J. Harvey, Senr., D. McMillan, N. D. McTavish and J. W. Currie, the first four being members of the Presbyterian session. Many expressions of sympathy have been tendered to Mr. A. P. McKenzie on the great loss he has sustained.

Fifty Golden Years

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Harvey, Senr.,
Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

Amid the general rejoicing of the family, and with congratulations and tokens of friendship from numerous friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Harvey, Senr., celebrated their golden wedding on Tuesday, 5th instant, at the home of their son, Lieut. Chas. Harvey. With the exception of one son, Jack, all of the eight children were present to witness Mr. Harvey place a suitably inscribed ring on the finger of his bride.

The fiftieth anniversary of Mr. Harvey's marriage with Miss Mary Campbell was not only a scene of joy and thanksgiving at the life they had spent together, but also for the fact that they had been granted an unbroken family and that with the one exception they were able to be with their parents on this celebrated day. In addition to Lieut. and Mrs. Chas. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Harvey, Jr., and Miss Harvey, who reside in town, there were present Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Harvey, Mrs. Geo. Lang and daughter, and Mrs. W. J. Harrop, all of whom live at Indian Head, Sask. Mrs. Lang and Mrs. Harrop are both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey. Jack Harvey was unable to be present owing to him taking his medical examination for a doctor at Kingston, Ont.

During the day the family presented their parents with a purse of gold. The bride and groom were also the recipients of many telegrams and messages of congratulation from far and near, as well as of many flowers and other tokens of esteem, affection and good wishes for the future.

ELLISON-RUTLAND NEWS

Sheep-shearing is now the order of the day.

The Rutland Girls' Enterprise Club are holding an ice cream social in Rutland School on Friday, June 8.

Mr. T. Orchard returned from Keremeos on Monday's boat, after attending the funeral of Mr. McCauley.

Crop conditions in this vicinity are as desirable as any of the farmers could wish. The weather for the past few days has been mild and showery. A large percentage of the farmers are taking the situation seriously to mind and are planting every available plot of ground.

Private George McFee is suffering from a gunshot wound in the forehead, according to a telegram received by his parents here. He and his brother, Clair, enlisted with the 172nd and the former was drafted to France last month. His many friends trust his wounds are not of a serious nature.

The Ellison Girls' Club held an interesting meeting on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. N. Hereron. Miss G. Booth was awarded a handsome prize in recognition of her success in the recent Red Cross knitting competition. Mr. Hereron addressed the club in regard to entertaining the delegates of the Dairymen's Association, who anticipate visiting Ellison on the 23rd of June, when they will receive a hearty welcome from all. Another meeting will be held at Mr. Hereron's on Friday, the 15th.

The sad news reached this district last week-end that Mr. A. McCauley, of Keremeos, passed away on Friday afternoon. Formerly of Nova Scotia, he was well and favourably known in Kelowna and this district where he lived for six years. Mr. McCauley was in the prime of life and considered a healthy man until a month ago, when he contracted pneumonia and in spite of all efforts he succumbed. He was kind and obliging and was loved and highly respected by all who knew him. While in Kelowna he was employed in Burns' butcher shop. He leaves to mourn his loss a sorrowing widow and three small children. The sympathy of the many friends here is extended to Mrs. McCauley in this her time of sore trial.

BOY SCOUTS' COLUMN

Edited by "Pioneer."

Troop First! Self Last!

Kelowna Troop.

Orders by Command for week ending 16th June, 1917.

Orderly parade for week: Wolves. Next for duty, Otte s.

Parades: The combined troop will parade at the Club-room on Wednesday, 13th instant, at 7.15 p.m., and on Saturday, 16th instant, at 2.30 p.m.

As a troop we do not have much opportunity in Kelowna of doing any war service work, and so obtaining the special badges given therefor. Any work given to societies in connection with the war, such as the Red Cross, or work for the families of those who are at the front, counts as work in this connection. A scout is entitled to the War Service Badge for 84 hours of work. We have offered our services to the local company of Foresters to be recruited in Kelowna, in whatever way we might be able to give them any assistance, and we are very glad that we are being given the opportunity of looking after their bugle calls for them. We have only one bugle in the troop at present, but it is proposed to buy another, and if we could only get enough boys interested, we should be able to start a bugle band.

The report that Scout Master Pitman of the Naramata Troop had lost his arm has turned out to be incorrect. He has lost the use of his left hand but possibly it may, in time, be all right again. He is having it treated at the present time in Ramsgate Convalescent Home. We are sorry to hear that the Naramata troop has temporarily disbanded, owing to lack of officers, but hope that it will soon be flourishing again.

Mrs. Whitehead has given us some particulars which she received in a letter from her husband, of our first scout master, Mr. Leggett. In his letter, Mr. Whitehead writes: "This afternoon Whillis and I cycled into the neighbouring town and on our way called at a place where Leggett's squadron used to be to make enquiries. Well, you will all be glad to learn he is not dead, but a prisoner in Germany. It seems he was attacked 6,000 feet up and made a nose dive, but just managed to flatten out before he struck. They showed me the tail of a Boche aeroplane stuck out over the orderly room door with the black cross on it. It was the one belonging to the plane he brought down and for which he got the M.C. It was a delightful surprise. I saw Leggett's brother on Monday and had a long talk with him. He told me Wilmer was attacked by two Boche machines and driven down in their lines; he nose-dived to escape them from 3,000 feet, and was fortunate in being able to flatten out just before he neared the earth, and so secure a good landing. He was seen to walk away between two other men. It was three weeks afterwards before they knew he was a prisoner. He was put in solitary confinement for a week because he was out after 'sausage balloons' and had bombs on board. He is a prisoner at Osnabruck, Germany."

PRIZES FOR BEST COLLECTION OF WEEDS

People young or old who are interested in the Boys' and Girls' Club will be interested to learn that Prof. W. T. McDonald, the superintendent of boys' and girls' clubs, has arranged to be in Kelowna on Friday, June 22, and has promised to give a talk to boys and girls on the evening of that day. The list of extra club competitions is being drawn up. One of the most interesting of these items is for a mounted collection of weeds. This competition is mentioned now as many weeds must be gathered without delay before they are out of flower.

Quick Hauling to Market

JUST think of the time the Ford saves a busy farmer in hauling milk to the cheese factory—vegetables, butter, eggs and poultry to market—fruit to the railway station. One fruit grower, last season, made four trips a day to the railway station, a total of 144 miles, and carried as high as 72 crates of 11 quarts each on a trip. He couldn't have made more than one 36 mile trip a day with a team.

The Ford soon pays for itself in the time it saves the farmer. With help so scarce, every farmer needs to make use of every precious minute of his time. To him the Ford car is a real necessity. Indeed, some farmers tell us that it is doubtful if they could carry on their farm work under present labor conditions if it wasn't for the time the Ford saves them.

No farmer need be without a Ford. In fact, the average farmer could afford one if it were double the price. It is as easy to drive as a horse, three times as fast, and costs less per mile to run. Why not order one today?

A humane society had secured a show window and filled it with attractive pictures of wild animals in their native haunts. A placard in the middle of the exhibit said:

"We were skinned to provide women with fashionable furs."

A man paused before the window and his harassed expression for a moment gave place to one of sympathy.

"I know just how you feel, old tops," he muttered. "So was I!"

Is Sugarless Jam Possible?

Here is the recipe for a jam made entirely without sugar. It is the invention of an ingenious friend of my own, and I can vouch for its excellence. Stone 1 1/2 lb. of dates and let them soak for an hour in a quart of cold water, to which has been added the juice and thinly peeled rind of a lemon. Simmer the whole gently with a twopenny jelly-square (lemon flavour is best) until the mixture has thickened. This will make quite 4 lb. of delicious jam.

Extra Profit From Selected Cows

One remarkably satisfactory result of keeping simple dairy records, yields of milk and cost of feed, is the knowledge gained that cows of good dairy type do repay the cost of extra feed.

One example may be given. Not far from St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, one hundred cows produced 104,854 pounds of milk more during 1916 than one hundred did in 1915. The 1915 records showed that ten were not paying so they were beefed, and again in 1916 eleven were sent to the block, being replaced by better milkers. Better feeding contributed largely to the above noted big increase in milk yield; more corn was fed, more clover and a little higher meal ration.

The value of the extra feed was $605.00; this produced more milk to the value of $1,677.66, so that the extra clear return was $1,072.66, and the cows were in much better condition.

Dairy records help to select good cows to ensure larger profit. Write the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa, for free milk and feed record forms.

Probably at its birth chess was a branch of military education, rather than a form of amusement, and the various early changes in the game, of which we have record, were doubtless attempts to keep the instruction up to date and abreast with current alterations in armament and tactics.—London Chronicle.

A dangerous bush fire occurred in North Vancouver on Wednesday of last week. It burnt over an area of four acres before it was got under control.

After the German Army's Retreat

An Extract from a British Officer's Letter

It all smells of the Boche; you cannot mistake it. It is awful passing through this desolation. The furniture of the peasants is strewn all over the place and outside the ruins of what were once their cottages. Now and again you may observe a peasant rummaging among the piles of brick and mortar of what was once his home, seeking his hidden valuables.

These folks are very reticent and do not care to talk of their experiences. All males between 15 and 60 were carried off by the Hun, together with all the robust women they could lay their hands on. Men were compelled to salute the Hun officers by removing their caps and lowering them to the level of the elbows. There were frequent roll-calls, and as each man answered his name he had to file past the Boche, removing his headress 15 metres before reaching him and remaining so uncovered for 15 metres after passing him! There are a lot of Boche babies about, and I hear that a good many women were made to leave with the Huns when they retired.

The Hated Boche

Last night a party of Boches arrived here, and the news quickly spread through the village. Everyone collected on the square round the prisoners and hooted and yelled at them. "Ah! the dirty Boches; murderers, incendiaries; ah! the dirty brutes, the thieves, the assassins, the pigs!" One old woman spat in the face of a particularly arrogant-looking Boche officer and exclaimed: "Ah, dirty Boche, you have told the truth for the first time in your life. You said we should see you back, and sure enough we have!"

Much merriment was caused this afternoon when a party of Hun prisoners were told off to clean up the filthy mess which they had made, the inhabitants gathering round each group and jeering at them all the while.

It was rather pathetic in church last Sunday. The poor old priest—an old fellow over 60—was held by the Boches as a hostage for two years and only returned here a week ago; his people were using the church for the first time for two years. The poor priest was quite overcome by emotion, and everybody in the building sobbed when he described the burning of the villages and his fear for the safety of his own parish.

I went to a place where they had never seen the English before. You can just imagine their excitement when I puffed through the town in my Douglas. "Est-ce qu'un Anglais?" you could hear them saying, and a big crowd quickly gathered when I stopped to effect a small repair to my machine.

I sleep in a comfortable bed lately occupied by a Boche officer who had provided himself with a piano. "Deutschland uber Alles" now gives way to "If you were the only girl." Several bombs were found in the fire-grates, but I am glad to say no one has been blown up.

Troubles of an Editor

A correspondent has sent us an incomplete poem with the request that we will finish it and print it. Unhappily, our poetic license has expired and we do not intend to renew it. Otherwise we should be glad to comply with the request.

Never yet heard man or woman much abused that I was not inclined to think the better of them, and to transfer any suspicion or dislike to the person who appeared to take delight in pointing out the defects of a fellow-creature.—Jane Porter.

THE LOSS OF BABIES

If on the fateful day of August 5, 1914, some statistician, or, better still, some notable eugenicist, had ventured publicly to state that two years of war would show a fall of nearly a hundred thousand births in Britain he would have been set down as a crank.

As it happened the prophecy was the other way about. People of excellent intention harrowed others feelings with visions of the legions of war babies that would come down to earth in the first year of the war. When the registrations for 1915 showed that there were 65,000 fewer babies born in Britain than in 1914, they started to lament the increasing number of war-time weddings.

The babies of 1916 are now known to have been fewer than those of 1915 by 29,000. There is, therefore, a decline in the two years on the figures for 1914 of 94,000, a number which equals the population of quite a large city. And it would seem, too, that the Jeremiahs who grew so doleful about the increase of war-time weddings are as far out of it as they were over the babies. The 360,000 marriages of 1915 dropped to $79,000 in 1916.

The great slackening in the number of babies born calls for more and more effort to preserve and protect the lives of the children that are born. There are signs that the best elements of the nation have awakened to the fact that a child's life is a precious asset to the country. We see it manifested in an increasing development of the infant welfare movement.

When the war is over Great Britain will know her fate. Numbers alone can maintain her strength, and if nothing is done to stop the rapidly declining birth-rate, which began some years before the war, the days of the country are numbered.

Some Don'ts to Buyers of Printing

—Don't use cheap stationery. Your business is judged, and commended or condemned, by your letterheads and envelopes. The better class of stationery costs so little more it is not an expense—it's an investment.

—Don't sacrifice the appearance of a catalogue, folder or booklet because you can get it done cheaply. The only value such printed matter has is its appearance. Pay a fair price and don't throw your money into the waste paper basket.

—Don't award any printing contract on a price basis alone. Take into consideration the quality of the work the "low man" does. Compare it with the work of a quality printer.

Some Excellent Advice on Bean Culture That Will Interest Growers

Beans Should be Planted This Month

In view of the present world crisis in food supplies the growing of beans as a field crop affords one of the important means of helping to meet the situation. They are easily shipped and they form one of the best substitutes for meat on account of their high protein contents. It is largely on this account that the British Columbia Growers, Ltd., have gathered together the information given below and urge growers and others to seriously consider the advisability of planting at least an acre or so to this profitable crop.

Beans should be planted here about the middle of June and under average conditions a yield of from 10 to 17 bushels per acre can be expected. The greatest amount of labor is needed at harvest time. On account of the lack of special bean machinery, experience in handling the crop and the labor market, it is probably a desirable policy for many to grow small acreages rather than for a few to attempt large acreages this season.

The navy or pea bean is the leading commercial variety of dry beans. It is also called the soup bean. The demand for this variety is well established, a point which is much in the grower's favor. It is also probably the most prolific variety under local conditions. An increased acreage of beans will be an important contribution to the nation's food supply. But to make this increased acreage most profitable, however, we must standardize our varieties. Plant only the navy bean. This will assist the grower in finding a market for his surplus.

A sandy loam is best for beans. In many places the soil may be too fertile, causing over luxuriant growth of vines so that the plants bloom but sparingly and but little seed sets. Bottom lands are not adapted to bean growing for this reason, and also because of diseases, some of which are more prevalent under conditions where heavy dews and lack of air drainage are found, as on such lands. For this reason a location is to be preferred where there is good air drainage. Newly turned sod may be used for beans with good results. Such land is apt to be a little dry, which tends to check vine growth. Land which is somewhat impoverished is better than a rich soil. Prepare the seed bed immediately after ploughing and if there is time follow at occasional intervals with the harrow before the crop is planted. A final harrowing may be given just before the seed comes up. From 18 to 20 quarts of pea beans are required per acre. Larger varieties require more seed, ranging from the quantities named above, to one bushel per acre, according to size.

The bean is distinctly a warm season crop and should not be planted until the soil becomes thoroughly warmed. Generally speaking, the first half of June is ample time for planting shell beans, and in several instances fair yields have been secured from plantings made as late as the first of July. The limitation on late planting is the ability of the crop to mature before frost and unsettled weather for harvesting. Unlike most plants, the bean brings its seed leaves to the surface when germinating. If planted too deeply, this is made difficult. On the other hand, a crop planted shallow may suffer for moisture. From 1½ to 2 ins. is a good average depth.

For planting a small acreage a hand drill is satisfactory, the rows being commonly spaced 28 to 30 inches apart, with the plants about 2 inches apart in the row.

Level cultivation should be practiced after planting. The bean is a shallow rooted plant, hence care should be exercised to avoid injury by cultivating deep near the plant.

Beans should not be cultivated when the foliage is wet because it has a tendency to encourage anthracnose.

The crop should be harvested as soon as the pods mature and before they begin to shell. Growers report the use of an ordinary plow with a long shear and the mould board removed for cutting the vines. On small patches the vines may be pulled by hand. The pulled beans, while still damp, are forked into small piles or they may be bunched with a side delivery rake. The piles should not be over 2½ feet in diameter, and 4 to 5 feet in height. If the shocks get wet, they should be opened and turned as one would hay. As soon as the shocks become fairly dry, the crop may be stacked under shelter or threshed. The threshing should not be done until the beans become bone dry. The vines, which have gone through a sweat and are properly cured, have a tougher seed, and hence there is less damage from split beans in threshing.

A limited acreage can be threshed with a flail or beat out with a stick. In this way, there is very little loss and at the present high prices hand cleaning can be done at a profit, as a winter job. The cleaning is done with a fanning mill. If further grading is necessary they may be hand picked as they pass through an inclined trough or with special bean sorting machines.

In storing special care must be exercised to avoid moulding. If slightly damp, beans will quickly heat. Shovelling or re-fanning will help to prevent this. Plant only clean, healthy seed. The use of diseased seed causes dark spots to appear on the tender seed leaves and stalk at germination. It is a good practice to go through the field, take out and burn all such disease. This should be done before the third leaf is formed.

Your Best Insurance is a Well-Painted House

A THRIFTY HOUSE OWNER ONCE SAID: "WHEN PAINT IS HIGH I USE THE VERY BEST."

He said his experience in keeping his house in shape convinced him that the most expensive paint to use was the "cheap paint."

It weathers off, blisters, lets moisture in often-times long before it looks worn, and lots of damage will be done before you know it.

That's sound advice, and we ask you to talk to us about SHERWIN-WILLIAMS' PREPARED PAINTS which this store has sold for years.

CHICK WITH FOUR LEGS AND FOUR WINGS

Kelowna has always been celethings, so its latest attempt to maintain its reputation must not consisted of a young Rock bird.

It had lived for quite a number legs and four wings are perfectly developed and shaped, while its head and body appear normal.

For a limited time it will be at the Courier Office should anyone care to inspect it.

"Intolerance" Will be Here Next Wednesday

Wonderful Scenic Production
With Orchestra and Chorus

At the Kelowna Theatre, next Wednesday evening, will be shown D. W. Griffith's colossal spectacle, "Intolerance," a new and wonderful scenic production.

In "Intolerance," Mr. Griffith has departed from the old and worn-out forms of drama and has created a new form of art expression, whose reach is boundless, taking one from today to Judea, from Judea to Babylon, to medieval France and back again, even as thoughts flash across the mind.

Laughter, thrills and suspense fill the evening. It is impossible to express in words the staggering stupendousness of this offering. Nothing like it has ever been seen on any stage. In this spectacle, Mr. Griffith presents four parallel co-related stories. In these he has visualized imaginings and historical episodes that no one has ever expected to enjoy except in fancy. One sees pageant after pageant, tableau after tableau, tragedy after tragedy, climax after climax.

In the remarkable cast are many of the favorites who were seen in "The Birth of a Nation," such as Mae Marsh, Miriam Cooper, Josephine Crowell, Lillian Gish, Mary Alden, Robert Harron, Walter Long, George Siegmann, Elmer Clinton, Ralph Lewis, Spottiswoode Aitken, Joseph Henabery and Howard Gay. Other film favorites who appear are Constance Talmadge, Tully Marshall, Alfred Paget, Bessie Love and Scena Owen.

Reduced Fares for Orchard Labourers

In connection with the efforts of the Department of Agriculture to supply the necessary labour for harvesting the fruit crops of the Province, the Hon. John Oliver, minister of agriculture, announces that arrangements have now been completed with the Canadian Pacific Railway with regard to the transportation of harvest labourers and that fruit pickers and packers and general orchard labourers for the Okanagan Valley will be carried from the coast districts at a considerably reduced fare for the round trip.

Tickets will be sold only on the presentation of certificates signed on behalf of the government by one or other of the following: W. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; R. M. Winslow, provincial horticulturist, R. C. Abbott, coast markets commissioner, 305 Bank of Ottawa Building, Vancouver; or Mrs. Kemp, B.C. Fruit Harvesters' Bureau, Carter-Cotton Building, Vancouver. Second-class tickets will be issued at all stations west of Spence's Bridge, on the main line and branch lines; also from Victoria. They will not be issued to individuals, but only to parties of 5 or more travelling together on the going journey, the rate of fare to be one-and-a-half cents a mile in each direction; ticket to be purchased for the round trip journey at the time of purchase and to be limited for return to 60 days from date of issue, but not later than November 30. Tickets will be good to all points between Penticton and Salmon Arm, inclusive, the dates of sale to be July 11 to 15, 21 to 25; August 1 to 5, 11 to 15, 21 to 25; September 1 to 5, 11 to 15, 21 to 25; October 1 to 5, 11 to 15, 21 to 25. Tickets from Hope and stations west will apply via the Kettle Valley Railway and Penticton, as well as via Sicamous.

These favorable rates should greatly facilitate workers who desire to spend the time of fruit harvest in the Okanagan and may possibly result in quite an exodus of useful helpers from the coast cities at a time when help is short up here.

yields which we get represent the taking from the soil of large amounts of fertility. Even orchard lands take a large amount of fertility from the soil; an apple orchard in full bearing will take as much out of it as 30 bushels of wheat. We cannot go on without replacing this fertility in the soil, and the logical way is to feed some of our crops to live stock.

Mr. MacDonald referred to the rapid growth of the live stock industry in British Columbia, mentioning the fact that last year in the Kelowna district 14 silos were erected. He emphasised the need in introducing only the better qualities of live stock in the irrigated districts. "You will probably think that we live stock people are egotistical," he said, but it is only a few years ago when we were almost ashamed to be in a live stock country, but we are now having our innings. We have come back, and this time we have come back to stay.

Wherever live stock gains a foothold, there you will find proof and there can be no permanent system of agriculture that does not include live stock. In fact there has not been such a system and we can only judge the by the past.

The relationship of live stock to irrigation will again be discussed at this year's convention of the Irrigation Association, which is to be held at Maple Creek, Saskatchewan, August 1, 2 and 3.
